

Dr Les Strezov

Education:

BChem. Eng & Met, Hons., University of Skopje, Macedonia, 1984

PhD, Process Metallurgy, The University of Newcastle, 1995

Current activities:

Conjoint Professor, Faculty of Science and Mathematics, University of Newcastle

Conjoint Professor, Faculty of Engineering and the Built Environment, University of Newcastle

Visiting Professor, University of New South Wales

Process and product development for the minerals and metals industry

Application of lifecycle assessment principles in industrial process improvement

Previous activities:

Head of pyrometallurgy research for BHP Billiton

Development of new technology for the production of titanium

Decisive contribution towards the development of steel strip casting technology

Recognition:

BHP Best Research Award, Australia, 1995

ISIJ Sawamura Award, Japan, 1998

James Brody Award, Institution of Engineers of Australia, 2002

22 international patents